SAMPAN
Composed for treble choir & piano*

From the Song Cycle 'Eureka'

Lyrics by PAUL JARMAN

Music by PAUL JARMAN
& ANDREW DETELIGA

Commissioned by Caulfield Grammar 2012 especially for the Malvern Campus

* Also available with Cello and Flute

© Paul Jarman 2012
International Copyright secured - all rights reserved
All the birds have flown, far into the lonely sky. To-night I watch the rising moon alone. No one will know the tears I cry. Clouds fade into night. painting the twilight with my dreams.

Heaven my blanket and the earth my bed. You'll be the only dream I see. To the music of our dream-ing, we are danc-ing in the air on a wind that has blown across the sea. In the wonder of the mom-ent, Moon-light dries our tears and the stars light the way for me. Sil-ver ri-ver flow. Take me to where my heart must go. I'll wait un-til my boat is full of gold.

Then I shall sail back home to you. Ahih,

Sampan SA, Piano